Far-right group march passes through town without trouble

HUNDREDS of police lined the town's streets yesterday as a Britain First march and counter-demonstration passed without serious incident.

However, police made three arrests including a 38-year-old man from Luton on suspicion of a racially aggravated public order offence.

Around 200 supporters of the far-right group, led by Paul Golding and Jayda Fransen, marched yesterday from the train station to land opposite Bute Street car park. Nowhere near the 2,000-strong crowd expected.

Both Golding and Jansen (pictured) attended after a High Court judge ruled against a Bedfordshire Police injunction application to have them banned.

Both gave speeches, with Jansen's talk disrupted by two men in a car who stopped to shout obscenities. Golding said the group would return.

There was also a counter protest held outside the Hat Factory, with protesters carrying placards with the slogan 'NO TO FASCIST BRITAIN FIRST'.

GARRY GROUNDED

Man stranded in Ibiza without his heart pills after drunken flight

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.com

A HOLIDAYMAKER was left stranded without his heart medication for two days after easyJet cancelled his return flight from Ibiza.

Garry Rogers, 42, of Poynter's Road, Luton, was escorted off the outgoing flight from Luton Airport on June 2 when it arrived in Ibiza after he had a bit too much to drink.

As a result, Mr Rogers was told he would be denied entry onto his flight home when he arrived at the check-in desk.

Mr Rogers said: "I was tipsy at the airport and I went through security and the head of security let me through, so I could not have been that bad."

"Then we got into the bar and had a couple of shots. The mad thing is that they took all my gear off me and then said I had to buy it from Boots."

"Then we got on the plane after we've had a couple of shots, then there were some guys drinking through a funnel and then I was swinging the bottle with them."

"And because I am not much of a drinker, I turned into a giggling idiot to be honest with you, and then I was a bit stupid, but I was not aggressive in any way, I was loud and laughing."

"They told me to be quiet a few times and the next I knew I was being dragged off the plane when I landed and being searched."

"I assumed that because I was let through security afterwards there was no problem."

However, when he came back to the airport on June 11 he was refused entry onto the flight, which saw him stuck in Ibiza for two extra days.

Mr Rogers, who is unemployed, said: "The thing is that I take heart medication. I'm on 13 tablets a day and the tablets I had only catered for nine days."

"I could have had a heart attack or anything but they have not shown any sympathy."

"The staff could not understand what I was trying to say and I was begging them to let me on the flight."

"It caused a massive strain on my 11-year-old son because he was expecting me home."

Mr Rogers spent £170 on a flight home with Monarch and £35 on accommodation as a result of the prolonged stay on the Mediterranean island.

A spokesman for easyJet said: "The safety and wellbeing of all our passengers and crew is always easyJet's highest priority and we would only take action of this nature if we deemed it absolutely necessary."

"All airlines are within their rights to cancel return travel if they have concerns about a passenger's behaviour onboard."

Businesses 'isolated' by new appointment plan

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SHOPKEEPER is worried that a new police operating model will serve only to further isolate small business owners from the force.

The new way of working, which was introduced on Monday, will involve police dealing with less serious crimes by an appointments system, instead of an immediate response.

Shahzad Khadam, who runs the Day 1 store in High Town, feels that not enough has been done to improve response times to calls he and other shopkeepers have made to the police and that the new operating model will only make things worse.

Mr Khadam said: "Crimes against small businesses just don't seem important to the police, only big retailers."

"By the time they finally arrive often very little can be, or is, done."

The new system will mean Bedfordshire Police only respond to call outs immediately if they are deemed urgent or current, such as a stabbing.

Crimes which are not deemed in need of an urgent response will be dealt with by an appointment.

"As small businesses we pay our tax and business rates, yet we don't feel protected by the police."

CONCERNED: Shahzad Khadam says he doesn't feel protected by the police

"I see people who have stolen from my shop on a daily basis, yet nothing is done about it despite them definitely being caught on CCTV. What is the point of having the police if nothing is going to be done to help victims of crimes?"

"I understand there are limited resources but I feel that, not just in High Town, but across Luton, more needs to be done to protect small businesses."

"I can't help but feel the police force as a whole isn't carrying out its role."

"If I'm truly honest, I can't see that much changing as it appears to me that this has been an unofficial policy for a while."

Luton on Sunday contacted Bedfordshire Police inviting them to comment on Mr Khadam's claims, but they had not responded by our deadline.

Elections boss to study police poll wording

THE head of the elections watchdog will meet with the police chief who triggered Bedfordshire's first council tax referendum, following his claim the wording on ballot papers was 'misleading'.

Residents rejected Police and Crime Commissioner Ollie Martins' proposals to raise the police's share of council tax by 15.85 per cent on polling day last month, with 69.5 per cent of people voting against the plans.

PCC Martins has since claimed the referendum question and information provided on the polling papers given to voters was inadequate and this week he has been invited to discuss his concerns with Electoral Commission chairwoman Jenny Watson.

Mr Martins said: "I believe that many voters faced with the referendum question asking about a 15.8 per cent rise would not have known that the cost to them would be just 48p extra a week, amounting to £24.80 a year, for a Band D property."

"The information provided on the ballot papers needs to be unequivocally clear so that the voters can make a properly informed decision."

PCC Martins is also demanding changes to the rules that put restrictions on how and when publicity and awareness-raising can be conducted in the lead-up to a referendum.

He said that during the 28-day purdah period he was unable to explain the case in monetary terms for increasing the policing precept.

TEENAGER ASSAULTED BY PAIR

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a 14-year-old boy was assaulted on Friday, June 12.

It took place in Bushmead Road, when two Asian boys, asked for his phone and then attacked him.

One is described as slim, around 5'10" and wearing a grey hooded top. The other was described as chubby and around 5'6".

EKUN DUE AT CROWN COURT

A MAN charged with the murder of Londoner Marcus Hall 14 years ago will appear in court next month.

Adebayo Ekun, 38, is charged with the murder of Hall, 18, who was attacked outside a So Solid Crew gig in Luton in March 2001.

He will appear for a Plea and Case Management Hearing on July 10 at Luton Crown Court.

Gangs guilty of GBH

GANG rivalry spilled over into bloodshed on the streets of Luton when members were ambushed as they left a court.

Members of a gang from Lewsey Farm realised their rivals, from the Marsh Farm estate, would be going into Luton Magistrates' Court through a security checkpoint and therefore wouldn't have any weapons on them.

The two clashed in the town centre leading to a member of the Marsh Farm crew being stabbed.

On Tuesday, Lewsey Farm gang members Sejon King, 18, of Williton Road, Luton, and Derrick Clarke, 19, of Fenson Drive, Luton, were found guilty of conspiracy to cause grievous bodily harm with intent, wounding with intent, and having an offensive weapon.

King was also convicted of violent disorder, which Clarke had earlier admitted.

During the trial the court heard their victim that day was Nayaar St Juste, 18, of Eynsford Road, Leagrave.

Judge Richard Foster adjourned sentence on King and Clarke for the preparation of reports.

They will be sentenced next month with three other men who earlier pleaded guilty to their part in the town centre violence that day.

Couple take away a raw meal deal

IT'S JUST NOT CHICKEN: Louise said she does not think 'a place like that should be running'. She posted a picture of the raw chicken joint on Facebook and it has been shared over 33,000 times

BY CARL MUNGASI
carlmungasi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN has spoken of her disgust at being served raw chicken with hair on it after a night out.

Louise Hickson, 23, of Stanford Road, Luton, said she and her partner paid £9.50 for two servings of chicken and chips at Roma Kitchen in Mill Street, but were horrified to find the chicken had not been cooked and that it also had a strand of hair perched on it.

Luton Borough Council has launched an investigation after Ms Hickson made a complaint following the incident which took place last Sunday at around 1am.

A council spokeswoman also said it was investigating separate reports about a rubbish build-up at the rear of the property.

Louise said: "It was our first time going there and we just thought to give it a try. Not many shops are open at that time and because we saw the 'Just Eat' sign we thought it would be a trustworthy place to go."

"We ordered a two piece of chicken and chips twice and a couple of pots of sauce."

"We waited half an hour for it and my partner went in to collect it and it cost £9.50, which seemed pretty steep."

"Afterwards we went home and then I had a bit of chicken but I opened it and saw that it was raw. We went back to the shop and said, 'what the hell is this?'"

Louise also said none of the staff wore hair nets and that one had long hair.

She added: "They did say sorry and said they could give us a medium pizza."

"We said we wanted more but he said no, we cannot do that, we wanted a large pizza and a drink."

"We said that we would have them reported, free meal or not, and they said, 'go on then.'"

Luton on Sunday made repeated attempts to contact Roma Kitchen for comment but did not receive a response.

A council spokeswoman said: "We have received a report about rubbish near Roma Kitchen and we are currently in the process of establishing how the takeaway is disposing of its commercial waste. Please note that the business has not been open for very long."

Pub rises from the ashes to build on team's success

A POPULAR pub, which closed for three months following a fire, re-opened on Friday.

The Fancott pub in Toddington suffered severe damage to its outhouse, kitchen, and part of its main building as a result of the blaze which happened in March this year.

Owner Paul Wellman said rebuilding the pub had been a 'very difficult' time but added his team would now continue where they left off.

He said: "We've had a brand new cellar built for the bar, a new roof and a refurbishment of the pub. It was quite a lot of work. I do not know the exact cost but I would guess it was about £200,000.

"The pub is going to be the same as before because we are really successful at what we do."

The fire service said the blaze had been an accident.

HAPPY DAYS: Mr Wellman (bottom left) has hired new staff to work in the rebuilt Fancott pub which caught fire in March this year

Staff sacked in 'standards' drive

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NUMBER of college staff have been handed their P45s for 'disciplinary' reasons, it has emerged.

Barnfield College said they let staff go as part of their drive to 'uphold high standards'.

Tim Eyton-Jones, Barnfield's new CEO and principal, declined to comment on the number of individuals affected and which departments they were from, but a source close to the college told Luton on Sunday some of the staff were from the business and sports courses.

The drastic action follows a report last month by Ofsted which said teachers at the college who were unable to 'meet the required standards of performance' had left or were being coached to improve. Inspectors said the site, which was told it had no 'key strengths' in January, had made 'reasonable improvement' but still needed more work.

Mr Eyton-Jones said the situation was an 'individual matter' between staff and the college.

He said: "A number of changes to staff have occurred and will do so in the near future. In May of this year Ofsted said in its report 'teachers who could not meet the required standards of performance have left the college or are being coached to improve'. Senior staff have also acted decisively where individuals have not acted appropriately or to the detriment of students.

"In addition, through business planning processes the college is seeking to reinvest into the curriculum where many new full and part-time lecturing posts are being advertised.

Mr Jones added: "Our community deserves a college where they can rest assured, that every member of staff is acting with integrity and to the standards commensurate of an outstanding college."

"We are investing heavily in the curriculum by recruiting some outstanding teachers as well as buying new learning resources."

EU migrant spike spills into county

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 70 suspected illegal immigrants have been detained in Bedfordshire this month as the migrant crisis around Europe continues.

A local carpenter who runs his business from a hobby farm near the services said he had seen close to 60 suspected illegal immigrants pass through his land over the past few months.

Bedfordshire Police have arrested a number of people on suspicion of committing immigration offences this week, including a 22-year-old man from Sudan who hid underneath a lorry travelling from Calais in France which stopped at the M1 Toddington services.

Chris Gadsden, who has lived on his farm with his family since 1987, said the number of migrants he has come across has 'spiralled'.

He said: "In one hit I had nearly 30 and then the month before that I had 30 and I have had sixes and fives and fours. Since we have been here we have had 200 pass

Chris Gadsden (above) said the situation was 'out of control' through our hands. We have caught some but we will never catch them all because they come at all hours."

Abdul Aziz, (pictured above) the Sudanese man, was among seven people detained on Wednesday by police.

Before being led away by officers he told reporters: "I am a student and I want to learn. I want to go to university. For seven years I have dreamed of going to school or university in England."

Bedfordshire Police said they have detained 177 people in the last three months, including 72 people this month alone.

Chief Superintendent David Boyle said the force was working with Immigration Enforcement to 'process the detainees as quickly as possible'.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

This is the second time he was won the tournament in as many years, having emerged victorious in the welterweight class last year.

Car charging points not plugged enough

BY KATHRYN CAIN
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

MORE could be done to encourage Bedfordshire's 355 plug-in car drivers to use publicly funded charging points, motorists claim.

There are 26 public charging stations in Bedfordshire, including Luton, which have been used around 4,200 times since being installed between 2010 and 2012.

According to research conducted by the AA however, 74 per cent of plug-in hybrid and electric vehicle drivers charge their cars at home at night.

Bedfordshire driver Peter Coblenz, 38, who has owned a Nissan Leaf since March last year when he decided to go electric, said: "I think more people would use them if they were better placed, some of them are a bit out of the way and they could have them in the car parks as well."

"I think the main problem is that you're sold your car on the idea of it being really easy to charge at home so most people just do that."

Hetal Shah, head of Go Ultra Low, disagreed. She said: "The majority of plug-in car and van drivers only need to use public charge points as a back-up to their day-to-day home or office charging routine. Sceptics often question the usability of the roadside charging network, but they are important for electric vehicle owners."

Ads on cop cars?

DON'T do it! It would be undignified for a serious public service; it would also compromise the perceived impartiality of the police service.

Instead seriously investigate a full-blown merger with one or more neighbouring forces as an efficiency measure (departure of the Chief Constable provides an ideal opportunity!).

More 'daft' decisions

MANY people were stunned by the latest revelation about the antics of our profligate Police Commissioner. I refer to the news that Mr Martins has spent over £1million of our money on consultants to restructure Bedfordshire Police (LoS, 21.6.15).

There, and we all thought that it was Mr Martins' job to do that himself, didn't we? It's all very well to delegate responsibility where possible but this looks more like abdication - or more bluntly - ducking out.

Coming on top of the irresponsible waste of £600k on his daft referendum we are reeling at the magnitude of what looks like yet another example of his poor judgement.

But look a little deeper and it gets worse. Just what did the consultants do for their money? To a great fanfare it is announced that Beds Police are being restructured so that only emergencies will be dealt with

Sick of our careless cyclists

I HAVE been complaining to the police about cyclists riding on pavements for many years. But they won't do it as it is a 'low priority'.

They prefer drug-related offences as there is more credibility for the top officer which, presumably, may get he or she a promotion.

I have been challenging cyclists for many years, assaulted and or threatened many times. I was spit on once, and pushed into a moving stream of traffic at 20 past 8 in the morning. The police did take some interest in this for a while after I did all the searching and found out where the offender lived.

I suspected many of the offenders along the 505 in the morning, where I go to the paper shop in Humberston Road, were L&D employees.

Three of them seemed to think it was funny to brush past me because I walk with a stick and am nearly 80 years old.

This was reported to the police. I had warned the police there may be an incident because of this and they eventually went to the hospital and were allowed to talk to all of the cyclists there. I wasn't supposed to know this, but it stopped for a while. But it only seems to be partially effective now.

Ron Wilson

promptly while all other work will be put in a queue and handled 'as and when'. Wow! Shock, horror!

So what's changed? Are they really trying to claim that up till now all calls were responded to immediately - regardless of the need for urgency? Not in my experience they weren't. And it would have been a stupid waste of resources if they had been, and heads should roll.

And what about the policy of sharing resources? Couldn't the consultants' work apply just as well to the other forty-two police authorities in England and Wales? In which case couldn't they have shared the cost? Or could it be that they already operate in this way and it didn't occur to Mr Martins to copy best practice?

He tells us that he won't resign because it would cost us £1m to elect his replacement. Yet he's happily spent more than that on his consultants. I know which I'd have preferred.

Unwelcome sign

BACK to the 'Welcome to Luton' sign coming off junction 10/10a of the M1, whose idea was it?!

Was it Luton Borough Council getting rid of their budget for 2014/15 perhaps? What I did notice was the lettering was off centre of the mound. I wondered why that was. Then it came to me.

Perhaps it's left just in case someone complained why it was only in English. If they did the council could write 'Welcome to Luton' in say Polish, Romanian or Welsh etc instead.

They are very clever people at LBC, so they would have you believe.

What a load of s**t

I AGREE with the dog poo complainer featured in last week's newspaper.

I am sick of almost stepping - and sometimes stepping - in mess on my way to the shop, or work.

Why can't dog owners just pick it up? I cannot honestly believe we even have to ask - via a newspaper - for people not to leave faeces on the street.

Pathetic!

Man dies two years after head stamping

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@luton-news.com

A LUTON man has died after being attacked almost two years ago and left in a 'persistent vegetative state'.

Now the case of the man jailed for inflicting the terrible injuries on Henry Huggins has been referred to the Crown Prosecution Service.

It means Henry's attacker, Stuart Docherty – who stamped on his head and was later given an extended 17-year prison sentence – could face a charge of murder.

Henry had never regained consciousness following the attack in August 2013 and remained in a deep coma.

Last year at Luton crown court, Docherty, who carried out the sickening attack outside Henry's home in Luton, was told by Judge David Farrell QC: "What you did was an appalling act of cowardice and violence.

With him in the dock was 40-year-old James Early.

At a trial last month, Early was cleared of causing grievous bodily harm with intent to Henry, but convicted instead of an alternative charge of assaulting him occasioning him actual bodily harm.

Henry lived with his girlfriend in a flat on Whipperley Ring on the Farley Hill Estate in Luton.

James Early lived in a neighbouring flat and there was a history of bad feeling between them, partly because of Henry's aggressive dog.

Detective inspector Fraser Wylie, of Bedfordshire Police, said: "We are awaiting the results of the post mortem and the matter will be referred to the Crown Prosecution Service should any further action be required." "We are keeping the family updated."

Ex- Hatters striker Miller denies assault

RICKY Miller appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on Thursday to plead not guilty to an alleged assault. Mr Miller, 25, of Valence End, Dunstable, denied all five charges.

Four of the charges were in connection with an alleged racially aggravated assault on a taxi driver in April, while the other relates to alleged abusive behaviour towards Brett Longden, who himself is a former Luton Town player. Mr Miller will next appear at Luton Crown Court on July 21 for his trial.

Cyclists wreaking footpath 'havoc'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.com

INCONSIDERATE cyclists are causing 'distress and pain' by riding on the pavement, a resident has said.

The elderly man, who has asked not to be named, said 'loads of complaints' have been made by Stopsley residents about the problem in the Hitchin Road area.

Sergeant Pauline Leng from Bedfordshire Police said the force was 'aware' of the issue.

The resident said he had been struck twice by a cyclist, and one recently almost hitting his dog.

He said: "There's a big problem up there and there have been loads of complaints. The police will not stop them and it's illegal to ride on the path."

"I have been hit twice and I had surgery before that but the physical contact is dangerous for me. I don't know what to do now, the police are not interested."

"It causes a lot of distress and pain and a lot of hurt."

Somebody will get seriously hurt. A lot of old people walk up there and it causes havoc."

Sergeant Leng said the force was 'committed to tackling anti-social behaviour and crime in Luton' and was urging cyclists to 'ride safely and be considerate of other road users and pedestrians'.

She added: "We would remind all cyclists of the importance of cycling in line with the Highway Code and using roads rather than pavements, and wherever possible, cycle lanes."

Survey delay 'due to negative feedback'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COUNCIL has been criticised for 'holding back' survey results of public opinion of Luton because of a number of negative responses.

Liberal Democrat leader Councillor David Franks has criticised Luton Borough Council for not publishing sooner the results of the 'Perceptions of Luton Survey' conducted in Autumn 2013.

The survey analysis was finished by BMG Research in January 2014 but were only released by the council last week.

According to the survey, answered by 1,000 residents, some of the common words used to describe the town were 'diversity', 'multiculturalism', 'busy', 'dirty' and 'dangerous'.

Cllr Franks said: "I think the first thing to say is that it does not contain any surprises at all. It says what I would have exactly expected it to say and in view of that, the council has to explain why they have sat on it for months."

Cllr Sian Timoney, deputy leader of the council, said the delay was a 'cock-up not a conspiracy' and partly caused by the council using the results to inform its policies.

But Cllr Franks said the delay was because the authority 'did not like what it said'.

He added: "Huge numbers of people said they thought the town was dirty."

"They have cut back on the street cleaning team and each time they have done that we have asked them to re-invest some of the money they are saving into enforcement and each time they have refused."

Right up your street

Sinister past of houses built to help the needy

THIS week, Howard Chandler looks at the story behind historic Hibbert Street...

Hibbert Street, a turning off Castle Street, was once the location of a George Kents factory and still has the Hibbert Arms pub.

The most striking feature though is a pretty row of almshouses. Who was Hibbert and where did the money come from to pay for the almshouses?

Robert Hibbert (1769 – 1849) was born in Jamaica. He attended Cambridge University, returning home to acquire sugar plantations and slaves. A Unitarian, he was described as 'kindly, tolerant and gentle'.

When slavery was abolished in the 1830s the British government paid £20m compensation to slave owners, with Hibbert receiving £21,000 in return for releasing 1,105 people, about £19 per slave. Hibbert had paid for 12 cottages to be built in Castle Street in 1819 for '24 poor widows or other persons'. As the result of a land swap with the Ashton Charity of Dunstable in the 1880s these were demolished and new almshouses built in the new road. The Hibbert Trust still maintains the buildings.

Free solar panels on your home and reduce your electricity bills by up to 50%

Our client, a national installer of solar panel systems, is looking for properties with roofs suitable to install their free solar panels.

They are currently installing over 450 systems every week and your property may qualify.

If your property qualifies you will get free electricity throughout the day at absolutely no cost to you.

This means you could reduce your monthly electricity payments by up to 50%***

*Subject to usage. Average saving on electricity bills over a full year is 37%.

This is a free offer with absolutely no cost to you at any time. You will not be required to change your electricity supplier.

We're sure you've heard the saying; 'Nothing's for free in this life' - So how does the company get paid?

The company gets paid under a Government scheme called the 'Feed in Tariff'. This is why they are able to do it completely free for homeowners of qualifying properties.

However, unfortunately for a variety of reasons approximately 80% of properties do not qualify.

Does your property Qualify?

To qualify your property will be required to;

1. Have one of the roof surfaces, back or front, facing within 55° of south.
2. Have a roof surface large enough to fit at least a small system.
3. Have no over shading on relevant roof surface.
4. Be free of obstructions on relevant roof surface (flues etc).
5. Have access to purlins and rafters inside loft.
6. Have access and suitability to erect scaffolding or company's own work platform.
7. You have to own the property. (Private landlords are acceptable).

To find out if your property qualifies or for further information please call Greener Solutions on 01582 206003 between 9am and 7pm.

Don't miss out! Act now whilst the 'Feed in Tariff' is still at a level that makes this offer possible.

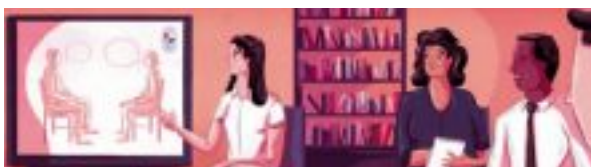

You can help make the UK a greener place and reduce your monthly electricity payment in the process. Plus a free, up to date, Energy Performance Certificate will be provided for your property after installation.

Konni's plan for a

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

PLASTIC bags are something most of us use every day without thinking of the damage they do to the environment.

One woman is out to try and change that mentality.

Konni Deppe, of Kingston Road, Luton, started a project to engage and promote local shops, along with cutting down on the area's contribution to pollution.

The idea is to create a 'High Town Bag,' sponsored by local businesses, which she hopes people will use instead of plastic ones.

She said: "In October a minimum charge of 5p for plastic bags will be introduced across the country, which big retailers will have to enforce in order to cut down on the number of bags which are dumped and left to pollute the environment.

"However, smaller shops are not bound by this and I fear people will keep using plastic bags regardless of the damage they do.

"In the long run, it will save people and businesses money as they won't have to pay out for plastic bags."

Her aim with the project is to reduce fossil fuels, cut the carbon footprint and

ON A MISSION: Konni Deppe, who is heading the project, and a mock up of the High Town bag (right), of which a prototype is due to be made also reduce the amount of bags sent to landfill.

Aside from the obvious wider-reaching environmental benefits, it should also cut down on littering.

Konni also believes it will help to spark a debate about green issues in High Town which people will hopefully begin to become more engaged with, along with promoting the High Street as a shopping area and the 60 plus businesses which trade from the road.

She added: "Businesses will benefit as they will get their names adorned on the side of the bags.

"At the moment it's in the research and planning stage.

"I want to see how it goes and how shopkeepers feel about it before going on to anything bigger.

High Town will be 'buzzing' as festival steps up a gear

FESTIVAL

HIGH TOWN FESTIVAL

High Town
Saturday, 1pm

THREE years in and the High Town Festival has set its sights on making next month's event 'bigger and better' than before.

The annual community event brings together the best of local entertainment, food, music and business on July 4 and is aiming to be a yearly cultural destination for people from all over the Home Counties.

Luke Middleton, a local neighbourhood community worker and member of the organising committee, said the festival created a 'really great buzz of people coming together and having a great time'.

A large crowd is expected this year so High Town Road has been closed traffic and the closures will run from the junction with Havelock Road to the junction with Midland Road.

So how has it come about?

Luke said: "It was originally started as a small thing with a few groups involved."

"The idea is to bring the people who live in High Town together to have a really fun day, so all age groups and nationalities come together and celebrate - it's a community festival."

"The growth has come from more groups getting involved and there's now lots of community groups and stalls."

"We have started to increase that this year by extending the time and

HIGH NOTE: Last year's festival of entertainment, food and local music saw members of the community come together we've made space for more stalls."

A new edition to this year's festival is a food market serving a selection of Greek, Brazilian and Spanish dishes, as well as Brockleby's pies, jerk chicken, UK Bratwurst, French bread and pâtisseries.

What else will be there?

"This year people can expect a fun day with live music performances all the way down High Town Road.

"It will just be a really great buzz with people coming together and having a great time."

"We have a local ska band called EasyDread and we have got some students from Luton Sixth Form College and they are performing some of the Fleetwood Mac hits."

"We have got St Matthew's Primary School singing and a local singing group called Forte Voices."

Unwind as bar stages jazz and swing evenings

MUSIC

VARIOUS ARTISTS

Connors Café Bar

Thursdays & Fridays, 8-11.30pm

LUTON's town centre cultural quarter takes another step forward next month when the recently opened Connors Café Bar introduces live swing and light jazz evenings.

To get people in a relaxed mood for these music nights, opening hours will be extended on Thursdays and Fridays.

Starting on July 2, punters will be able to enjoy the entertainment as they sip and talk the night away until 11.30pm at the Hat Factory venue. The café, which is named after a straw hat factory based in the building in the late 1920s, opened in March this year and has so far proved popular with residents.

Michelle Griffin, business development manager for Luton Culture, said: "The music will be swing and light jazz in the evening, with background live music and there will be a variety, so it's not purely a jazz venue."

"On the first night we have Schrödinger's Strings, who actually played at the official opening of the café and they play at a few venues in Luton. They will be a regular act and we will also have a variety of solo singers."

Although the town centre already has another venue offering jazz music in the shape of The Bear Club, Michelle said Connors was not a competing venue but a 'complementary' offering.

She said: "It's more about having somewhere to go to have a nice drink and to talk but have some quality music in the background as well. What people are asking for is somewhere they can have a nice drink but still have a nice conversation."

"A lot of places in Luton now have loud music but people want somewhere they can go and businesses want somewhere they can entertain people. It's about giving the town another option that is not your run-of-the-mill pub but somewhere people can go to enjoy the music and the people they are with."

Fancy chatting and gaming the night away once a week?

BOARD GAMES

THE BASEMENT GAMING CLUB

The Hat Factory
Every Friday

YOU'RE never too old to sit around a table and play fantasy board games with like-minded individuals, right?

That's the philosophy behind The Basement Gaming Club which has been running for more than a year now and is always on the hunt for new members.

It's run by Luton Culture employee Ian Jarrett who was there in its early days when it only had three or four people meeting in a pub Ian says he moved it to the Hat Factory when he began working for Luton Culture and it now attracts more than 30 people every Friday.

He says: "We do all sorts of gaming like board games, card games, miniature war games and table top role play role playing games. I have always enjoyed playing board games all my life."

"I think it's something different in comparison to everyone playing computer games these days, and it's something where you can sit with your friend around the table and talk."

Entry to the game nights costs £1 and Ian says the event attracts a wide demographic from around the town.

He adds: "It appeals to everybody and there is a game out there for everyone."

"People say that it's very geeky but there's something out there for everyone."

OUT AND ABOUT

LUTON LIVE STREET ENTERTAINMENT

Luton town centre
Saturday, 11am-3pm

ROVING street entertainers will be hitting the pavements in Luton next weekend.

Luton Business Improvement District (BID) will be staging its first street entertainment event on Saturday as part of its wider programme to encourage people back into the town centre.

The first Luton Live Street Entertainment event will be held between 11am and 3pm with a host of artists performing live music, comedy and street theatre in the BID area.

The roving street entertainment will take place in key parts of the town centre including Bute Street, The Mall, Market Hill and St George's Square.

Acts so far confirmed include Rock 'n' Roll trio 'Lucille' who recently signed to Hoodwink Recordings and have just released their debut album.

Vintage vocalist 'Rebecca Jayne' will entertain visitors with a repertoire of Swing and timeless classics.

Street entertainer 'Charlie Wheelz' will bring the glamour and energy of the American diner with her comedy roller waitress act.

And the day will be compered by Dapper Dan who will introduce the acts and interact with the audiences throughout the day.

Many of the performances will have an American twist – coinciding with July 4 being Independence Day in the USA and also UK National Independent Retailers' Day in the UK – celebrating the importance of independent businesses on the high street.

Luton BID was officially launched earlier this year following a successful vote by local businesses last October to make Luton town centre a designated BID.

Business representatives have developed a five-year action plan around the key objectives of promoting the area; ensuring the town centre is accessible and appealing; providing a safe and attractive environment for businesses and visitors; and supporting and promoting business growth, development and investment and a sense of community.

Gavin O'Brien from creative agency Clearhead is chair of the Luton BID Board.

He said: "July 4 is the first of a monthly summer programme to do just that and I hope that people will take this opportunity to bring the whole family along to enjoy the fun atmosphere."

"The street entertainment reflects the value of having a BID – organising activity in a coordinated way that is high quality and accessible to everyone."

The event is free for all to enjoy.

Last chance to see Fiennes star as more earthbound Superman

SCREENING

MAN AND SUPERMAN

The Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Saturday, 7pm

THOUGH its successful run at the National Theatre has finished, there is still a chance to experience Ralph Fiennes' performance in the classic Bernard Shaw play.

The Schindler's List star takes to the stage in this romantic comedy.

An epic fairytale, a fiery philosophical debate, Man and Superman asks fundamental questions about how we live.

Jack Tanner, celebrated radical thinker and rich bachelor, seems an unlikely choice as guardian to the alluring heiress, Ann.

But she takes it in her assured stride and, despite the love of a poet, she decides to marry and tame this dazzling revolutionary.

Tanner, appalled by the whiff of domesticity, is tipped off by his chauffeur and flees to Spain, where he is captured by bandits and meets The Devil.

An extraordinary dream-debate, heaven versus hell, ensues. Following in hot pursuit, Ann is there when Tanner awakes, as fierce in her certainty as he is in his. Appearing opposite the academy

FIERY: Indira Varma as Ann Whitefield and Ralph Fiennes as John Tanner star in this heaven versus hell romantic comedy award-nominated star is Indira Varma who plays Ann, who has appeared on stage in a number of Globe and Donmar Shakespeare plays and on screen has been seen in Game of Thrones and the recent blockbuster Exodus: Gods and Kings.

National Theatre regular Simon Godwin directed this performance and has already moved onto his next project with the company, a production of The Beaux' Stratagem.

Following the play's closure on May 17, this may be the last time to see the critically acclaimed show.

Tickets are £15, with £2 off for concessions and £2.50 off for friends of the Grove Theatre.

They are available to book online from grovetheatre.co.uk, or by calling the box office on 01582 602080.

Here is a testimonial from a satisfied customer "We would like to take this opportunity to thank you all at Major Move for helping us find our dream home. Especially Oz, who went above and beyond for our family.

We have now been living in Arbroath Road for three weeks and couldn't be happier.

Our experience with other agents was not of the outstanding service that we received from Major Move. We would only recommend Major Move to our friends and family in the future.

Thanks so much again."

PRESS RELEASE

JUNE 2015

CONNELLS OFFER HELP TO FIRST TIME BUYERS

With a fifth of young people believing it virtually impossible to get on the property ladder (Source: The Generation Rent report from Halifax), Connells in Luton is urging aspirational home owners to speak to its Mortgage Services Consultants as buying a first home may be within closer reach than initially thought.

The report shows that 21 per cent of 20 to 45 year olds think that they would struggle to get funding to buy their own home, but Connells believes that the right rate and right products are available to make home ownership accessible to many people:

"Many first time buyers dismiss the idea of seeking advice on buying their first home, mainly because they believe it is totally out of reach without a large deposit," says Jay Taylor, Mortgage Advisor for Connells in Luton. "There are many competitive mortgage products available that require as little as a 5% deposit and getting on the property ladder could in fact become a reality."*

"Although there are still challenges for first time buyers, there are also opportunities and many positive incentives to help those struggling to purchase their first property. For instance, the government backed 'Help to Buy' mortgage guarantee scheme is available to first time buyers with just a 5% deposit and the Help to Buy ISA launches this Autumn giving people a chance to build a greater deposit pot," continues Jay.* "We urge anyone looking to take their first step toward home ownership to contact their local Connells branch as, with access to good mortgage advice, their dream home may be within reach."

Connells offers mortgage and remortgage advice from its network of branches and has access to many different mortgage products from a panel of lenders. To speak to a Mortgage Advisor, please call the Luton branch on 01582 450999 or email: Luton@connells.co.uk.

The XJ elevates Jaguar's luxury to whole new level

Priced from £58,690 on-the-road, the XJ, Jaguar's all-aluminium luxury saloon, is more desirable than ever. Subtle changes to the exterior design, accentuated by full LED headlights, add to the XJ's already distinctive looks.

Materials such as semi-aniline leather and inlay veneers enhance an interior already considered the most luxurious in the segment, culminating in the new Autobiography model.

Matching this traditional craftsmanship is state-of-the-art technology, including a new infotainment system. InControl Touch Pro offers features such as door-to-door navigation and 1,300W Meridian digital audio system.

The driving experience is better than ever, thanks to a V6 diesel engine which offers more power and torque and less fuel consumption and CO2 emissions, and an electric power-assisted steering system that enhances Jaguar's reputation for unrivalled agility and responsiveness.

DELUXE DRIVE: The new Jaguar XJ has piled on the luxury features

The new XJ features a larger, more upright grille, while sculpted chrome blades in the outboard air intakes emphasise the car's mature, prestigious character.

The full LED headlights accentuate the 'quad lamp' design feature that Jaguar sporting sedans have made their own. They are further enhanced with active front steer and static bend lamp functions, and auto high beam assist. LED headlights also provide a colour temperature closer to that of daylight than Bi-Xenon lamps, improving visibility and driver comfort, and are also more energy-efficient. Twin 'J-Blade' daytime running lights are a unique feature to XJ, befitting its status in the Jaguar saloon car range. The white light instantly and seamlessly changes to orange when the direction indicator is operated.

The XJ's peerless interior design has been taken to the next level. So luxurious has it become that the outgoing Portfolio trim is now used for the Premium Luxury model. The new Portfolio gains quilted soft-grain leather seats with diamond stitching and embossed headrests, and figured ebony veneer.

The new Jaguar XJ range will consist of: XJ Luxury, XJ Premium Luxury, XJ Portfolio, XJ R-Sport, XJR, XJ Autobiography. The powertrain range will consist of: 300PS 3.0-litre V6 diesel automatic; 340PS 3.0-litre V6 petrol automatic; 510 and 550PS 5.0-litre V8 petrol automatic.

Hyundai i30

Take a look inside...

The Hyundai i30 delivers a polished performance in its updated guise, ushering in more efficient engines, a zippy Turbo model, a seven-speed dual-clutch transmission and some classy styling updates. Hyundai has come a long way very quickly, but it's hard not to be impressed by the maturity of this i30's execution.

The idea of a sporty Hyundai hatchback would have had us rolling in the aisles a few years back but we've seen sister company Kia debut the genuinely credible pro_ceed GT model, so it was about time Hyundai got with the programme.

The i30 Turbo does what it says on the tin, offering a 186PS turbo motor that will zip it to 62mph in 8 seconds and on to 136mph, so it's not really hot. You could probably dip your elbow in it and feed it to a baby. Hyundai trumps its Nurburgring-developed suspension setup, and it also gets bigger wheels and tyres and more direct steering (2.78 turns lock-to-lock).

Of more relevance to the vast majority of i30 buyers are the revised petrol and diesel engines that make up the rest of the range.

Buyers will have a choice of two diesel options – a 1.6-litre engine available in either 110 or 136ps outputs. Those who prefer petrol can choose either a 1.4-litre 100PS unit or a 1.6-litre 120PS engine as well as the Turbo model.

The post-2012 i30 is a car that has matured a lot from the original i30 and it's a really assured piece of design.

The latest model tweaks the look a little with a few minor changes such as the slightly more assertive hexagonal grille. There are also some different alloy wheel designs in both 16 and 17-inch diameters and three additional body colours: Polar White, Orange Caramel and Jet Black.

The interior design is neat with plenty of metallic and silver painted finishes on display, the centre console not looking unlike that of contemporary Ford models with sprouting air vents.

While it's not possible for Hyundai to make the vaulting gains it has done to be where it is, the i30 shows that improving incrementally still puts it on collision course with the very best cars in its class.

Walker says Town spell improved his game

SHOTS BOUND: Charlie Walker has signed for Aldershot Town

Still says he has one more promotion left

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

JOHN Still has hinted that his Luton Town tenure is coming to an end – but he believes he'll guide the club to one more promotion before retirement beckons.

The Hatters manager, who turned 65 in April, won the Conference in his first full term in charge but his side's first campaign back in the Football League came to a premature end as they failed to qualify for the League Two play-offs.

It was a disappointing end to a season which had seen Town spend much of it in contention for back-to-back promotions, but a disastrous March of six defeats in a row and seven in total ultimately put paid to their bid.

Still will return next term for a renewed push for League One but said at the end of the season just past: "Time is running out for me, at my age, seriously."

"But in my time here there's another promotion to be done, without a shadow of a doubt."

Still added that he hopes that when his love affair with Luton ends, that he'll have put the club on the road to continued success.

"On and off the pitch, I look back at two years here and the progress made has been phenomenal," he said. "The club has become reunited. I think there is a belief within the town, a belief on the pitch and we just missed out this year."

"Well, that's okay, because that's football.

"I have disappointments, of course I have disappointments throughout the season."

"I was listening to Steve McClaren, with Derby not quite making it [in the Championship play-offs] and he was disappointed, but he will probably look back on certain things and think he was a little bit unfortunate. We all do that."

"But, at the end of the day, I think all you want as a manager is to keep progressing. Well we're progressing as a football club."

"For myself, to have come here and got us up [from the non-league] and got us close [to the League Two play-offs] in two years, I'm absolutely delighted."

That's not to say that Still was satisfied with an eighth placed finish. He said: "Would I have settled for this at the start of the season? My answer to that would be no, I wouldn't have settled for it because I wanted to go up. We've done everything we can to go up."

"I can turn around and give as many excuses as I want [as to] why we haven't gone up. I have. It's well documented about injuries."

"At the end of the day I'm very proud of where we are. I've very proud of the progress we've made and I'm very proud of the infrastructure that's been put into everything."

"On my first day here, I always remember saying about building foundations to build the football club from."

"When we do that, and we will do that, when John Still's long gone, if they stay with that this club will grow and grow."

FORMER Luton Town striker Charlie Walker believes his spell at the Hatters improved everything about his game – despite finding match time hard to come by at Kenilworth Road.

The 25-year-old was snapped up by boss John Still last summer after a prolific goal-scoring record at non-league side Peacehaven & Telscombe, where he bagged 43 goals as they gained promotion from the Ryman League Division One South.

It didn't really work out at the Hatters though as his game time was largely limited to the development squad.

He only made one start for the club, in the FA Cup first round at Bury when he was substituted close to the hour mark in the 1-1 draw.

Walker also made five further appearances from the bench, three of those in League Two, failing to find the target.

He wasn't the only player to struggle after moving up to Football League level, with the likes of fellow forward Ross Lafayette also struggling, and he was released by Still at the end of the season to pave the way for a move to the Shots.

The Hampshire club have signed him on a one year deal and he will join another former Luton player, midfielder Jim Stevenson, at the Rec.

"My whole game progressed in my year at Luton," said Walker. "My hold-up play improved a lot."

"I want to be playing first-team football every week and feel that I can do that here. I know Jim Stevenson and he's spoken highly of Aldershot Town."

"This is a massive club and it's the best club for me to be at – I'd be silly not to want to come here."

"I want to be playing in the Football League and Aldershot Town want to be playing in the Football League, and if we can both progress together that would be ideal for me."
